

Lucy Chieng Aged Care Centre

8-14 Romani Avenue
Hurstville NSW

Lucy Chieng Aged Care Centre

Albert Leung provided operational practicality inputs in the architectural designs of the Lucy Chieng Aged Care Centre facilities including the completion of its plan for tendering in 2009

Lucy Chieng Aged Care Centre is a care facility set in a quiet residential area in Hurstville. Lucy Chieng Aged Care Centre offers 70 beds, permanent and respite care including and a dementia specific wing. his modern and purpose built aged care residential facility sits adjacent to a large recreational park and is a pleasant stroll to the local library, shopping centres and community centre. A major transportation hub is nearby with frequent bus and train services.

"Lucy Chieng facility is a very good example of providing culturally specific aged care to senior Australians"
– by David Coleman MP, Federal Member for Banks, visited Lucy Chieng Aged Care Centre on 26th March 2015.

Charles Tang Design